DOUBLE BILL AT WVU AT MORGANTOWN

Fairmont High Will Play in University Town on Saturday.

Fairmont people who go to Morgantown for the football game Saturday have a double dose of the great fall game, inasmuch as Fairmont High will play Morgantown High at the University athletic field in the morning and West Virginia will meet the famous Carlisle Indians on the same field in the afternoon.

Tickets for the Carlisle-West Virginia game were placed on sale here at Martins News stand Tuesday and a large number have already been disposed of. The pasteboards are going at $1.00 each for the best reserved seats and standing room on the day of the game will go at the same price, so there has been considerable stimulus in the buying. The fact, too, that the High school game will be played in the morning making it desirable to go down on the Penna. train at 7:15 a. m. draws attention away from the fact that there is no train service in the afternoon from Fairmont to Morgantown.

Returning the train service is good as both the B. & O. and Pennsylvania have regular trains arriving here shortly after nine o'clock from the University town. Many will drive from here if the roads remain in good condition.

FORMER FAMOUS CARLISLE INDIAN TUTOR.

Saturday afternoon of this week while his University of Pittsburg team is playing Lehigh at Pittsburg, "Pop" Warner, no doubt will think more than once of what his former charges, the Carlisle Indians, are doing at Morgantown where they will be meeting West Virginia University. Warner coached at Carlisle for more than ten years and turned out there some of the most famous gridiron teams that America has ever seen. This fall he helped to coach at Carlisle a week or ten days before Pitt started practice and when he was at Morgantown with his Pitt team Sept. 29th he served notice on West Virginia coaches at that time that they could look for a stiff struggle with the Indians. Later developments in the matter of Carlisle games with Albright and F. & M. have verified his prediction. Warner is one of the leading coaches in the country and draws a big salary.

EXPECT INDIANS TO PLAY GREAT GAME

Much Interest Being Shown in Next Game at Morgantown.

MORGANTOWN, Oct. 11.—The receipt of further information in regard to the Carlisle Indian football team which plays here on Saturday strengthens the prevailing local belief that the Redskins will give West Virginia fully as hard a battle on the gridiron as did Pittsburgh and the Navy. Data just received here shows that the Indians made over thirty first downs against the strong F. & M. team at Lancaster last Saturday and the fact that Captain Ribbetts and LeRoy, Carlisle half-backs, did most of the gaining through sweeping end runs aided by powerful interference by both the linemen and other backs, makes it imperative for coaches Tobin and McIntire to develop to the highest point of efficiency their defense against end runs.

It is not believed that Carlisle will be able to successfully execute forward passes against West Virginia. West Virginia possesses in King, Rodgers, Harris and Lentz three stout defenders against this mode of attack, and then, too, Carlisle, in her earlier games does not seem to have relied upon this method of attack for gaining ground, preferring rather to follow the old Carlisle system, the chief and most successful points of which are a smashing series of off-tackle plays from close formation and sweeping end runs from kick formation. Glenn Warner, present Pitt coach, tutored the Redskins at Carlisle for ten years or more and while he was there he developed to perfection the system which he is still employing at Pitt and which the Indians have retained under Leo Harris, the present coach at Carlisle, who, by the way, is a Warner protege. In Le-Roy, Carlisle has a halfback whom all critics who have seen Carlisle play believe will prove to be one of the best of the long series of famous backs the Indian school has turned out. Frank Mount Pleasant, who coached at West Virginia Wesleyan in 1914 was one of the best known of Warner's Carlisle products. Then there was Jim Thorpe, the great all-round athlete who won so much fame at the Olympic games, and Guyon, Garlow and scores of others who in their day were the best gridiron performers the fall sport could boast. If LeRoy comes up to the expectations of those who have seen him play this year and equals the fine records of these men, then West Virginia will certainly have to be on her guard for Saturday.

The West Virginia team will be in better shape for the Saturday encoun-

It is the Man Who Must Decide, and Now is The Time

It is the man who must decide what kind of clothes he wants.

It is the man who must decide where he will get them.

Two questions that need no straw vote nor general election to decide them.

Two questions that are instantly answered in one word, ter than had at first been hoped. Meredith, the Fairmont boy, who has been playing such a steady game at guard, and whom it was believed would not be able to play against the Indians, will be ready to take his place on the initial kick-off according to announcement today. This leaves both Singleton and Weimer available for Harrick's tackle position if it is decided at the last minute not to take the chance of aggravating his injury by playing Har-rick in the Indian game. Weimer, naturally, will get the call for Harrick's position as he has had more experience and is somewhat heavier than Singleton.

West Virginia coaches are expecting a gruelling contest that will take the most spirited efforts of their best men and that has been the problem this week, i. e., to impress upon the men the fact that Carlisle is exceptionally strong and that unless they go into the game determined not to be defeated they are likely to lose.

The Indians are noted for being an "in and out" team. For instance they have on occasion been beaten by small college teams on one Saturday to turn right around the following Saturday and lick one of the best teams in America. It seems then that the game the Redskins will play here will depend to some extent on the mood in which they enter the contest. Naturally they are eager to win a "place in the Sun" this year when they are returning to football after a year's layoff and will endeavor to make a fine showing against West Virginia because of the W. V. U. showing against Pitt and Navy.

Actual Service Gives Leadership To Firestone SUPER CORD TIRES

THE leadership of the Firestone Super Cord has been won solely on construction producing unequalled strength, durability and flexible action. The body is built of walls of stout cord. Each cord imbedded in pure gum, no two cords ever touching to cause friction. The cushion (which is under tread to absorb shocks) is a thick layer of pure gum. The tread is tough and thick. The beads which hold the tire to the rim are specially reinforced. The side wall is also reinforced, giving extra strength against rim-cut, and raising bending point safely high. Users of Firestone Cord Tires are getting the highest average mileage enjoyed by car owners.
